ENDURA: THE BEST BUILT CARGO TRAILER ON THE MARKET!

Why does the industry view the Endura as the top of the line, the best you can buy? Why do so many customers own more than one Endura? How can the Endura outlast the competition- and stay good looking, after years of hard use?

Simple! Because the Endura is simply the best all-aluminum cargo trailer you can buy.

Using proven high-performance structural adhesives, commonly used in the aerospace industry, the Endura's horizontal tubes are bonded to each other creating a trailer side that essentially performs as a single structure with many times the strength of conventional stake-sided trailers- but without all the drawbacks. One of the biggest advantages of bonded panels is the reduction of welds which can in some instances cause aluminum to lose some of its strength.

The Endura's unique double-walled construction reduces unsightly dents on the inside from showing up on the outside of the trailer, thus maintaining the beautiful flat exterior of your Endura even after years of tough use.

Plus cleaning out the Endura is a snap. The elimination of all stakes and side posts, smooth interior walls and floor extrusions that run parallel from front to back makes the trailer very easy to clean.

Proven Technology...Proven Performance....Proven Value...ENDURA, simply the Best!
